

APMOG

APMOG is the Association of Program Managers in Obstetrics and Gynecology (APMOG). It is professional networking organization developed by program managers for program managers. Your employment as a program manager/coordinator is the only membership requirement for APMOG.

APMOG is a subgroup of The Council on Residency Education in Obstetrics and Gynecology (CREOG), and is therefore, governed by the policies and procedures, which have been developed by that Council. As is true of CREOG, APMOG is ultimately governed by the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG).

• Mission Statement:

The mission of APMOG is to facilitate and promote professionalism, affirm dedication to the educational process for women's health and to foster the development of standards for residency and fellowship program managers/coordinators in conjunction with CREOG.

APMOG elects national officers for the APMOG Council which

- represents residency and fellowship program managers,
- serves as the OB/GYN PM advisory committee,
- advocates for PMs to CREOG Council, and
- provides a faculty member to the CREOG School for Program Managers in OB/GYN.
